Do you currently provide
certification to your students,
faculty & staff?

Our mission is to help every student (and faculty) get certified in their field.

Now you can provide: fast,
free or affordable & remote!

(Certification courses can be free for your students and for you by applying to grants such as Perkins)

A photograph of three students in a recording studio. A young man with a beard and glasses is adjusting a knob on a large mixing console. A young woman with long dark hair and glasses stands behind him, looking at a computer monitor displaying audio software. Another young woman with curly hair and glasses is also looking at the monitor. The scene is dimly lit, focusing on the students and their equipment.

Isabel case.

She is a college student. She will graduate and receive a diploma. But that might not be enough to land her a job in her field. She might still need more experience and hands on learning.

A woman with long dark hair, wearing a black leather jacket, is seated at a desk in a dimly lit room. She is looking intently at a computer monitor. Her hands are on a keyboard and a mouse. The desk also has a MIDI controller with various knobs and buttons. The background is dark, with some blurred lights.

A simple gesture

By working together we provided Isabel a more secured future. We provided her a certification degree on top of her diploma degree that provided her a job experience that she used to get a job.

From not finding a job to finding a job.

After Isabel graduated from City University of New York together with our certification she was able to secure an entry position at NBC Universal.

We have provided certifications to 100 of 300 media majors students at BMCC, just like Isabel.

75% has passed the exam

Right now there is not enough cert courses offered at universities across US. Focusing on CUNY we can start to make a positive change. Looking at the numbers from our case study at BMCC, we provided positive learning outcomes and proper workforce experience to 100 media major students out of 300 from who 75 were able to pass the certification training and the exam.

– What people say

"I have no doubt that the same respect, energy, and excitement that Bez brings to his work with celebrity clients, he brings to OPEN DOORS. His creative spirit is infectious, and his ability to translate technical language into clear direction has helped our members grow. I can see no obstacles preventing Bez from excelling and am confident that he will elevate the work of those fortunate enough to collaborate with him."

JENNILIE BREWSTER
Director of OPEN DOORS NYC

"Pro Tools NYC is THE place. Their teachers are top notch. Bez (the founder) is one of the best teachers I've ever had — in any subject. He makes learning Pro Tools engaging, interesting, fun, and he challenges you to learn Pro Tools so well that it disappears, so that there's nothing between you and your creative ideas. He and his team can get you there."

Bez is not only a thorough teacher, but he is fun to work with. After my Pro Tools sessions with him, I am more efficient at producing and experimenting podcasts and audio + film documentaries.
